

John Morrow
 Birkbeck University of London, CEP and CEPR
 www.jmorrow.net

Malet Street
 London, WC1E 7HX, UK
 j.morrow1@lse.ac.uk

Teaching Evaluation

Below are the average ratings and comments for my course “The Growth and Development of Nations in the Global Economy” I gave at Kent State in Fall 2010 and the University of Wisconsin-Madison in Fall 2009 and Fall 2008, as well as Principles of Microeconomics ratings. I have subsequently taught courses in International Trade at the undergraduate and graduate level, International Finance and Mathematics for Finance. Evaluations for UK teaching on available on my website.

Question:	Growth & Development		Micro Principles
	Fall 2010 17 Students	Upper Under Average	Spring 2011 150 Students	Principles Average
Valuable info & skills	4.50	4.38	4.41	3.96
Expectations Clear	4.50	4.39	4.14	3.91
Class Organization	4.50	4.20	4.59	4.20
Class Activities	4.25	4.19	4.36	3.85
Assignments/Tests	4.58	4.18	4.32	3.88
Received Feedback	4.42	4.27	4.32	3.91
Clear Explanations	4.42	4.31	4.00	3.75
Motivated to Think	4.58	4.35	4.59	4.13
Demonstrated Knowledge	5.0	4.69	4.50	3.93
Showed Respect	4.92	4.68	4.82	4.49
Available for Consultation	4.67	4.49	4.73	4.32
Technology supported learning	4.58	4.37	4.41	4.18
Overall Experience	4.33	4.03	4.46	4.06
Average Rating	4.56	4.35	4.43	4.04

Question:	Growth & Development		Growth & Development
	Fall 2008 54 Students	Department Average	Fall 2009 75 Students	Department Average
Class Organization	3.91	3.86	3.69	3.43
Lectures Interesting	3.65	3.66	3.48	2.90
Readings Useful	3.79	2.73	3.29	3.21
Exams Indicative	3.47	3.56	3.85	3.26
Course Difficulty	3.88	3.25	3.33	3.38
Grading Fair	4.21	3.78	4.00	3.61
Professor Helpful	3.79	3.71	3.45	3.46
Recommend Course	4.44	3.70	3.90	3.19
Professor Quality	4.26	4.07	3.70	3.45
Average Rating	3.93	3.59	3.63	3.32

Kent State University Comments:

- “Wonderful Professor! [...] Most thought provoking class I’ve taken ever at Kent State!”
- “John Morrow has thus far been one of the best professors I’ve had at KSU! Intelligent, easy to understand and created a great learning environment...”
- “Very prepared and enthusiastic about subject. [...] Encouraged participation which was nice.”
- “Instructor always had funny stories and examples.”
- “Great teacher, would enjoy having again. [...] Great attitude and could tell he cared.”
- “Liked course, challenging, liked professor.”
- “Sat through other micro classes and by a long shot the best professor! Great job!”
- “Really great professor! One of the best I’ve had. Would definitely take him again!”
- “One of the best professors I’ve had at Kent. Would highly recommend.”
- “Loved the class and the professor was funny.”
- “Excellent professor, well versed on this subject.”
- “Great course with great professor teaching it.”
- “I sometimes find the subject matter of economics to be dry and boring, but the professor made the subject seem more interesting improving my knowledge on the subject matter.”
- “Dr. Morrow was clearly excited to be teaching and did his best to accommodate student needs.”
- “I like the discussion in the class, it provoked me a lot.”
- “Dr. Morrow is very helpful and supportive. I enjoy his class very much. He knows well about the developing countries and this course is interesting.”

University of Wisconsin Comments:

- “Very interesting, I would definitely recommend the professor to friends.”
- “Interesting course. The problem sets were time consuming, but helped me to increase my skills using Excel, which was beneficial to me.”
- “I enjoyed classes where we examined real world examples the most.”
- “A great course with excellent professors.”
- “I can tell he likes what he is teaching. He comes up with interesting/funny ways to remember some concepts that I found very useful and also made class more interesting.”